Boys' and Girls' Track Teams Win State Championships

By Miles Whitting

In 1 Corinthians 9:24, God commands us to, "run in such a way as to get the prize." Throughout Logos' track history our athletes have endeavored to live out this verse. In the first two years of becoming a full member of the IHSA, the boys earned second place twice while the girls were in the top 10 both years at State. This year the Knights' boys' and girls' teams took home the gold at State.

Throughout the regular season, team members trained hard. At the Whitepine League Championship, the girls came home with the first place trophy and the boys took second. At the Meet of Champions Paul Ryan ran, at that time, the second fastest 800m nationally for a high school boy.

During the two-day span of Districts, the girls took first place and the boys came in second to Kamiah. The top five in each event and top two relays then headed to State in Middleton, near Boise.

After a six-hour trip, the Knights arrived in Middleton and went to the track first thing. The next day dawned dark and stormy. Nonetheless, the boys' long distance team was able to snag the first, second, fourth, sixth, and seventh places in the 3200m. Paul Ryan led this race its entire length and broke his own State record time, followed by Levi Wintz, Josiah Anderson, Jonny Handel, and Jackson Dickison. Megan Dye took fourth in the girls' 3200m.

Throughout the rest of the day, the team competed in preliminary sprints and some field events. Naomi Miller took fourth in the discus. Both the boys' and girls' relay teams won the medley relay. Claire Ahmann took second in the high jump.

The first day of State was finished but the next day would bring the finals of the sprinting events and some field events with a scattering of long distance races and relays. Noel Saunders placed seventh in the pole vault.

The following morning was bright and clear. The meet started off with some field events and then "The Parade of Athletes." In the 100m hurdles, Claire Ahmann took sixth, then the girls' 4x200 relay finished second. In the 100m dash, Ruth Saunders placed second.

In the girls' 800m race, freshmen Keidi Anderson and Maddie Wintz finished second and sixth, respectively. Paul Ryan took first in the 800m, breaking an old State record,

I Didn't Know That!

You know how you can have a friend for many years and really think you know that person well? Then you discover that he's a second cousin to Tom Cruise, or that he liked The Bee Gees, or that he's close to creating cold fusion in his basement, or that he has no taste buds, or that he's actually someone else, hiding out in the Federal Witness Protection program.

In other words, you find out that you didn't know your friend all that well. Well, that can happen with institutions, too. You think you have a pretty good idea of what, for instance, a local classical, Christian school is all about. Then you discover something very cool about it and you're very excited to share the news, only to learn that almost everyone else already knew that and you apparently missed the memo.

In order to help you not be the last one to know some important info about Logos School — stuff you may or may not already know — I've devised the following brief multiple choice quiz. Unlike the final tests we recently gave to our older students at year's end, the answers to this quiz are provided in this newsletter.

However well you do on the quiz, I hope you have been blessed by Logos School. Have a delightful summer!

DIRECTIONS: Place a check in the box next to the answer that correctly completes each sentence. One point per answer.

Logos School Report of Giving 2014/2015

Friends of Logos,

It is my pleasure to submit this 2014/2015 Financial Giving Summary for your review. Please join me in expressing gratitude to God and the 544 people and businesses that made donations to Logos in the last year. Altogether with donations to the Annual Fund, Capital Gifts, and Event Proceeds, we raised $605,804 for Logos school. I know I speak for everyone on campus and our entire Logos Board in saying thanks again to you and yours!

Logos Annual Fund 2014/2015

Gifts to the 2014/2015 Annual Fund were up 74% over last year! 326 households participated in the Annual Fund, contributing a total of $203,344. We are grateful to you all!

In our attempt to increase donations to Logos, we offer restricted giving opportunities that allow you to match your philanthropic preferences with our growing needs. The chart at left reflects the way you directed your dollars this fiscal year.

Year-End Report

God's kindness was particularly evident over the last few weeks of the school year. The Elementary Field Day at East City Park was a delightful time to celebrate a year of diligent study and Christian fellowship.

Students competed in foot-races and tug-o-war. Connor Costello won the sprint and the long distance races. He will go down in history as "Fastest in the Park" for 2014-2015.

The sixth graders took their annual end of the year bike trip along the Trail of the Coeur d'Alenes to Lake Chatcolet.

During the end of year awards assembly, it was a blessing to see the elementary students receive commendations for a job well done with thankfulness.

with Levi Wintz close on his heels at second. The girls' relay team placed second in the 4x100m that followed.

Next Ruth Saunders took gold in the 400m. Paul Ryan also finished first in the 400m with a nail biting finish. The 300m hurdles were next with Noel Saunders taking fourth. Ruth Saunders was able to take bronze in the 200m dash. Only two events were left in the day, the 1600m followed by the 4x400m relay. In the 1600m, freshmen Megan Dye and Maddie Wintz came in second and fifth place, respectively.

The "Fab Five" dominated the boys' 1600m. Paul Ryan led this race followed by Levi Wintz, Josiah Anderson and Jonny Handel with Jackson Dickison in seventh. Coach Carnahan said about this race, "We knew it was coming...Still it's neat to pop up the standings right there at the end of the meet." In the 4x400m that followed the girls took sixth, and the boys, with three out of their four boys having just run the mile, came in seventh. After all the number crunching was complete, the Knights came out on top getting first place for the boys and the girls.

The team, coached by John Carnahan, Gwen Spencer, Allison Ryan, and Wayne Browning, included: seniors Jonny Handel, Levi Wintz, Paul Ryan, Ayo Popoola, Bella Minudri, Sheridan Howell, Ruth Saunders, Naomi Miller, Rozy Gray, Esther Edwards; juniors Josiah Anderson, Cotton Whitling, Claire Ahmann, Sarah Miller; sophomores Jackson Dickison, Edison Li, Thomas Sensing, Miles Whitling, Noel Saunders, Erica Johnson; and freshmen Brennon Costello, David Popoola, Maddie Wintz, Jemma Merkle, Josie Edwards, Megan Dye, and Keidi Anderson.

The junior high track team, coached by Tyler Anderson, participated in five meets. Nic Minudri (100m) and Eden Schumaker (long jump and 400m) broke school records. The team included: eighth graders Ben Dooley, Nic Minudri, Gadi Edwards, August Igielski, Nate Miller, Brian Plotner, Paul Ryan ran his way to State Gold Medals in the 400, 800, 1600, and 3200. Named the North Idaho Boys' Track athlete of the year for Division 3A-1A, Paul will be running for the WSU Cougars next year, leaving a slew of Logos records in his wake. At right, Paul won the Shoreline Invitational 1600 race with a school record time of 4:11.69.

Exemplary Achievement Honors for Athletic Program

The Idaho High School Athletic Association awarded Logos Exemplary Achievement Status for 2014-15 in 1A Division II.

This is the result of a year-long, voluntary program in which schools earn points based on their student-athletes' performance in the classroom, at the athletic venue, in activities' competitions and in the area of citizenship and sportsmanship.

The top school in each division is named a School of Excellence. Schools of each classification that finish second and third in the final point compilation are awarded Exemplary Achievement Status, while schools that score 90% on the Citizenship Component and have no player/coach ejections throughout the year or incidents of unsportsmanlike school behavior at state tournaments receive an Award of Excellence certificate.

The 1A Division II awards went to Number 1 Community School (School of Excellence), Number 2 Lighthouse Christian and Number 3 Logos (Exemplary Achievement), and Lighthouse Christian, Garden Valley and Clark County (Award of Excellence). There are 39 schools in the 1A Division II.

Lacrosse goes the extra mile(s) in 2015

Change marked the lacrosse season for the Knights: new league, new coach, new players.

After seven years in the North Idaho Lacrosse League, Logos joined the Idaho High School Lacrosse League, along with three other former NILL teams (Coeur d'Alene, Lake City and Moscow). Because lacrosse is not a sanctioned sport by the Idaho High School Athletic Association, the IHSLL is the governing body of the high school boys' lacrosse teams through the state of Idaho.

The League has two divisions. Logos participated in Division 2 with the following teams (enrollments from the IHSAA website): Capital (1808), Wood River (805), Borah (2081), Emmett (703), Ambrose (121), Vallivue (1933), Meridian (1512), Skyview (1296), Moscow (747), and Logos (92).

Wes Struble, involved with Logos lacrosse for over 20 years, took the reins from Ben Merkle. The 17-man roster included eight returners and nine new players. "We started with an inexperienced team and ended with seasoned veterans with a good outlook for next year," said Coach Struble.

Since most of the opposing teams reside in Boise, Logos began league play with six games on three consecutive Saturdays, leaving Moscow at 5 a.m. and returning around midnight. Over the following three Saturdays, the Knights hosted opponents on the UI SprinTurf field with the last two regular season games in Riggins at Salmon River High School. Activities Director John Carnahan commented that the school vans traveled the equivalent of a one way trip to New York City over the course of the season.

Logos finished fourth of five in Group 1 (of two groups) with a 3-12 record. They beat Moscow twice and Payette County once. The season ended on May 13 in Boise with a quarterfinal loss against undefeated (and eventual Division 2 State Champion) Capital.

Senior Sean Stanton was the only player from a north Idaho team to earn a place on the all star team (attack/2nd team) with 53 of Logos' 102 goals in 14 regular season games, the second highest goal tally in Division 2. This year's roster included returners: seniors Jameson Evans, Chaeun Kim, Sean Stanton; junior Jon Morris; and sophomores Preston Evans, Andy Handel, Luke Mason, Knox Merkle. The new players included: senior Stocker Lloyd; sophomores Alexander Berglund, Thomas Black, Cole Brusven, Boden Lloyd, Andrew Pilchard; and freshmen Cody Adams, Eston Berglund, and Zachary Ewell.

The junior high team was coached by Kyle Morse ('09), all conference player for the University of Idaho. Assisted by Kyle's brother, Trevor ('14), last year's NILL co-MVP, the boys finished the season 4-3. The roster included: eighth graders Ben Euhus, Talis Meyer, Nate Miller, and Bennett Schlect; seventh graders Joe Ahmann, Isaac Blum, David Handel, Jadon Nuttbrock, Rory Wilson; and sixth graders Alex Blum, Connor Costello, Kaden Kibling, Gavin Smith, and Jared Stokes.

Senior Class of 2015 Says “Farewell”

Martha Bowman

Gaven Dooley

Emilie Dye

Esther Edwards

Jameson Evans

Lauren Flack

By Lizzie Schlect

This year's seniors had a great year, and all have their own plans and adventures, ready to take a step into the arena of the world.

Martha Bowman is off to the University of Idaho for at least a year, and then plans on transferring to a school either in Maryland or Pennsylvania, studying history. Her favorite part about being a senior is using the microwave, having free periods, and getting coffee. Her advice to students is to “not procrastinate! Don’t kill yourself over homework, and enjoy being with your class because it won’t last forever.”

Gaven Dooley plans to pursue a career in Criminal Justice. In 10 years, he’d like to be a detective in a large town in order to better the community around him. He enjoyed being more responsible with his time and having some free time. He advises students to value your friends and always be willing to make new friends.

Emilie Dye heads off to fight fires with the Forest Service this summer, then will attend George Washington University in D.C. Her favorite part about being a senior was spending time with younger classmen. Her advice to Logos students is this: “Start early on all your college preparations. Do NOT wait until your senior year to take your SAT and ACT, because it is death!”

Esther Edwards is excited to attend New Saint Andrews, then plans to pursue musical theater. In 10 years, she would like to have gained a greater knowledge of the world. Her favorite senior memory is her class and their “nutty vibe.” Her advice is to “love your class, classes and teachers, even when it’s hard. And drink lots of water.”

Jameson Evans heads to the University of Alabama this fall, studying chemical engineering. Later, he plans to work for himself doing whatever he enjoys. His favorite part about senior year was the free periods, mainly the ones involving Dutch Bros. trips. His advice: learn how to balance both school and activities.

Lauren Flack will attend UI, then hopes to transfer to Lewis Clark State College, majoring in radiology. In 10 years, she wants to be happily married with a job serving others medically. Her favorite senior year memory was having seniority over all of the students taller than her. Her advice to others is this: “It’ll be over before you know it, so give it everything you’ve got. Laugh always, and glorify God while having lots of fun!”

Rozy Gray plans to attend UI, majoring in graphic design, then wants to study abroad. In 10 years, she wants to know both Spanish and French, and own a lake house. She advises others to study hard.

Jonny Handel travels to LCSC majoring in nursing. He will also be running for their track and cross country teams! In 10 years, he wants to be an emergency nurse. His favorite memories from senior year include chilling with his bros, free periods, and WinCo runs. He tells students to “work hard and have fun!”

Sheridan Howell heads off to Whitworth this fall to study athletic training. In 10 years, she wants to have a successful job, and to have changed someone else’s life for the better. Her best moments of senior year were free periods, as well as her independent study. She advises others to start studying for finals early.

Ayo Popoola is going to UI to major in International Relations. She plans to study abroad, travelling to wherever God takes her, eventually earning a law degree. Her favorite part about senior year was the free periods. She advises students to get enough sleep and be diligent.

Chaeun Kim sticks around to attend UI for one year, and then will travel back to Korea to serve in the military. In 10 years he wants to be fluent in two more languages. His favorite part about being a senior is “that I feel like I can do whatever I want in school except I can’t.”

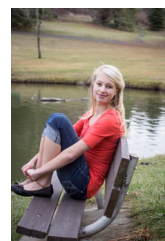

Rebekah Kim travels to Columbia University in the fall. Ophthalmology interests her the most, and in 10 years, she would like to have published multiple research papers. Her senior favorite was graduating, and she tells others to, “Make sure you have a way to relieve stress.”

Elly Kline will pursue a major in Business at UI, and wants to have a career that involves travelling. Her favorite senior memories involve Dutch Bros trips during free period. Her advice to students is to "work hard, have fun, and love the Lord."

Caity Krueger plans on a gap year, and wants to end up doing something she loves surrounded by the people she loves. Her favorite part about senior year was spending time with friends. She advises students to do their homework on time, but most importantly to have fun.

Stocker Lloyd's next step is NSA for two years, and then he wants to pursue an M.D. In 10 years, he wants to be a doctor, successfully paying off his debts. His favorite part about being a senior was "not being a senior," and his advice to students is to not procrastinate. It's not worth it.

Naomi Miller will pursue an Associate's Degree from NSA, then a nursing degree from LCSC. In 10 years, she wants to be a nurse in Moscow surrounded by friends and family. Her favorite moments of senior year included eating lunch anywhere but the lunch room. Her advice to students is to "look forward to looking back."

Bella Minudri heads off to Carroll College and hopes to end up happily married with a master's degree. She leaves these words to students: "Don't conform to what other people think you should or shouldn't be. Like what you like, laugh if you think it's funny, and be friends with the people who accept you for who you are."

Hannah Roberts' plans are to attend NSA. In 10 years she would like to be travelling the world with her husband. Her favorite part about being a senior was the free periods, and her advice to Logos students is to "eat breakfast, work hard, and enjoy life. Find a balance between studying and socializing."

Kristina Roberts heads off to NSA, and then will see what doors open after that. She loved the free periods, and she advises students that "being in school is a small part of life, so cherish the friendships that you make and the memories you create."

Paul Ryan will attend WSU and run both cross country and track. He wants to be a professional runner. His senior favorite was "chilling with his bros during free period." He says not to "stress out over school or sports, to relax and be thankful for all of the opportunities that God has given you."

Ruth Saunders heads to NSA and will continue dance training. In 10 years she sees herself running a competitive dance studio. Her favorite memories of senior year were the light and flexible schedule. She advises students to "work hard, play hard, and slap procrastination in the face!"

Lizzie Schlect is going to NSA, wants to become a historian, and to travel around the world learning about ancient artifacts. Her favorite part about senior year: volleyball, basketball, and mock trial. Her advice to students is to "laugh the hardest you've ever laughed, make the best memories, because you will eventually look back and laugh even harder."

Sean Stanton's plans after graduation include becoming a Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtle. In 10 years he plans on living on his privately owned island. His favorite part about being a senior is not being a junior, and his advice to students is to drink water.

Megan Story will go to LCSC and get an Associate's Degree in Business. In 10 years, she wants to own her own event center and host events. Her favorite part about senior year was the free periods and coffee runs. She advises seniors to "work and save your money so you can do amazing things."

Priscilla Urquidez will stay in town at UI, majoring in film. In 10 years, she wants to have written a novel or seven. Escaping her indentures was her favorite part about senior year. She wants others to know she's pretty sure there is buried treasure somewhere on campus, so keep looking.

Levi Wintz will go to the UI, majoring in business and running as a Vandal. He wants to travel abroad, and in 10 years be married and manage a company. His favorites: having free periods and being so close to graduation. Levi's words of wisdom: "Take advantage of your time. Do stuff. Make memories. Finish strong."
