A Bridge From the Past to the Future

In mid-October, workers placed the bridge to the new Logos School campus. Just as this structure connects Mountain View Road to the future school property, other “bridges” connect our families, students, and staff from the past with families, students, and staff of the present and future.

Since the first student graduated from Logos in 1985, numerous alumni have gone out into the world. Many chose to stay in (or return to) Moscow to raise their families. Currently 93 alumni children attend Logos School, over 20 percent of its total enrollment.

Alums are involved with the school as financial supporters, volunteers, and employees. This year, the school’s faculty includes eight alumni: Bekah (Wilson ’94) Merkle, Bethany (Lemons ’98) Calene, MacKenzie (Struble ’99) Miller, Samuel Dickison ’07, Chantelle (Courtney ’08) Wilson, Jaqueline (Nance ’12) Wilson, Heather Wilson ’12, and Jed Whitling ’13. In addition, Joe Casebolt ’96 co-coaches the junior high boys’ basketball team and his wife Paula

Administrative Highlights

- 93 alumni students
- 8 alumni faculty/staff
- 9 teachers with 20+ years
- 3 alumni board members
- 2 on the board with 15+ years

(Sawyer ’94) Casebolt coaches the cross country team.

As the school enrollment grows, new hires join a staff that includes nine members with over 20 years of service: David Kohl (30), BJ Loyd (27), Gwen Spencer (27), Julie Garfield (26), Jan Sawyer (24), Wes Struble (24), Ginny Knecht (23), Matt Whitling (23), and Denise McIvor (22). Seven others have served for over 10 years.

Board members also bridge the past and future. Douglas Wilson, a school founder, has been on the board since the school’s inception, while Marc Rust has served for 16 years. Meanwhile, three board members are alums: Chairman Joe Casebolt ’96, Vice-chairman Nathan Wilson ’96, and Benjamin Bowen ’98.

A look through Logos yearbooks shows how the school has grown and changed over its 37 years. A look at plans for the new campus promises more to come. As we “cross over,” let’s remember God’s past faithfulness to us and at the same time look forward to His many future blessings.

Faculty/Staff

There are several new (and not-so-new) faces in the classrooms and offices at Logos School.

Mr. Jed Whitling ’13 has filled the big shoes of longtime athletic director John Carnahan. He is also teaching morning fourth grade and assisting his father, Principal Matt Whitling, with the junior high boys’ PE class. Jed, who received his Elementary Education degree from the University of Idaho last spring, attended Logos from kindergarten through twelfth grade.

Mrs. Bethany (Lemons ’98) Calene is teaching fourth grade half-day. She has been a classroom aid at Franklin Elementary (fourth and fifth grade) for the past year, taught math and Bible in Paraguay a number of years ago, and has a BS in Applied Music from the University of Idaho. She has three children in the school.

Miss Kelsey Clemans moved from fourth to fifth grade to replace Miss Maggie Church who is now teaching at Christ Classical School in San Luis Obispo, CA.

Mrs. Jessica Evans, an accomplished children’s book author and illustrator, is teaching our sixth grade art classes this year. She has been the long-term substitute for these classes since Mrs. Jordan LaFon had her baby as well as our high school girls’ volleyball coach for the past 23 years. She has four children in the school.

Mrs. Mackenzie (Struble ’99) Miller is teaching seventh grade English and NT Survey. Mrs. Miller has an AA from New St. Andrews College and a BA in French and Classical Studies from the University of Idaho. Her husband, Jared, is a 1998 Logos graduate and her father is Mr. Wes Struble. They have six children in the school.

Mr. Joseph Roberts is teaching fifth through eighth grade Latin classes as well as Old Testament Survey and the keyboarding elective. Joseph has BA and MA degrees from NSA.

Miss Heather Wilson (’12), who taught third and fourth grade Latin at Logos last year, is now teaching morning fourth grade. She is also assisting Mrs. Gwen Spencer with the junior high girls’ PE classes. Miss Wilson has BA and MA degrees from NSA.

Changes

Facilities

Every summer, the administration takes the opportunity afforded by the school break and better weather to upgrade and spruce up the campus. The work crews, supervised by Mr. Adam Berry and Mrs. Kelly Stephenson, had plenty to do:

- ✓ The large classroom, carved out of the auditorium during summer 2016, was divided into two classrooms to accommodate the doubling of seventh and eighth grades.
- ✓ Room 1, 2, and 3 desk tables were sanded and polyurethaned.
- ✓ Floors received a fresh coat of wax.
- ✓ Carpets were cleaned.
- ✓ New lockers were added near the auditorium.
- ✓ The gym bathrooms and lockerrooms were painted and have new sinks; walls were covered with a fiber reinforced plastic wall board that is waterproof, never needs paint, and is easy to clean.
- ✓ The gym floor was refinished.
- ✓ Railings were painted.

- ✓ The entry to the parking lot, where junipers were removed during summer 2016, was landscaped with railroad ties and river rock (above left).
- ✓ The path at the north end of the school building was widened and paved (above right).

The student crew included: Clara Anderson, Keidi Anderson, Maggie Anderson, Alex Blum, Isaac Blum, David Handel, Calvin Michaels, and Mallory Struble.

Mrs. Carla Euhus is the administrative assistant to the registrar now that Mrs. Tracey Handel is teaching all three of the preschool classes.

Mrs. Jannell Farrell, administrative assistant.

Mrs. Amy Kline, administrative assistant to the athletic director.

Mr. Adam Berry, custodian.

From Principal Matt Whitling

The elementary students are off to a great start this year. The transition from summer to school has been a smooth one, and we are well into this year's course work and activities.

The teachers and students have been working diligently to establish good patterns early in the year so that we redeem the time from start to finish. Keep an eye on the dates on page 2 as we will be into the thick of things soon.

First Day Eclipse

The first day of school, August 21, was extraordinary this year with a solar eclipse. The view from Moscow was a partial solar eclipse (about 94% coverage of the sun) at approximately 10:30 a.m.

Students used eclipse glasses attached to paper plates for safe viewing of the event (below).

Young Cross Country Teams Rebuilding

By Jake Hughes

Steep hills, hard wind, pouring rain, muddy courses, and random outbursts of singing is what this year's cross country team experienced. Each one was looked at with a good attitude and extreme confidence.

After the retirement of the much loved and highly respected Coach Allison Ryan, the Logos High School teams greeted Coach Paula (Sawyer '94) Casebolt, a Logos alum with four children currently attending Logos. She has an infectious love for the sport and inspired the team throughout the season.

One of the team's main focuses of the year was to perform well at Districts in Lewiston. Before they could try to accomplish that goal, the teams had to compete at seven meets. The boys' team placed first at four of those meets and second at one. The girls' team performed well at these meets, though not always qualifying as an official team (five runners).

Our pumped-up teams headed to Districts on October 19, and then headed to the State competition on October 28. The boys, led by August Igielski, placed seventh in the 1A Division Championship at the Idaho State meet. "We had an extremely young team at state," said Coach Casebolt. "With one senior, three juniors, two sophomores, and two freshmen, God has blessed us with this great score. They should be proud."

Team members included: seniors Eston Berglund, David Kayode-Popoola, and Luke Millar; juniors Rudy Christianson, August Igielski, Lyzie Norwood, Brian Plotner, and Zoie Yager; sophomores Tosin Bangudu, Isaac Blum, David Handel, Jake Hughes, and Grace Pilchard; and freshmen Alex Blum and Kayte Casebolt.

The junior high cross country team had a very successful season. Over the course of the season, there were continual improvements in athletes' race times and many top ten finishers. At the Bi-State Championship, the girls placed second and the boys placed third!

The Logos junior high team members, led by Coach Sophie Whitling with assistance from Mr. Tyler Anderson and Mr. Cotton Whitling, included: eighth graders Clara Anderson, Will Casebolt, Ben Druffel, Will Evans, Emma Handel, Kenny Kline, Sydney Miller, Jackson Pilchard, Theo Sentz, Cody Stevens, Rilla Story, Kaylee Vis, Jasper Whitling, and Ameera Wilson; seventh graders Cora Johnson, Nate Plotner, Titus Soderberg, Caden Walsh, Isaac

GO KNIGHTS!

First in League/Fifth at State

Logos Volleyball Team Gave It Their All

By Bel Merkle

Every year the high school girls begin arriving in the gym early in the morning, ready to work hard preparing for the volleyball season in front of them. This year, as the season picked up with two games a week, these girls did not hold back. They kept pushing towards their goal of going to State and, in the end, did it pay off? It certainly did!

The Knights finished top of the Whitepine League in regular season play and now were ready to face Districts. Saturday night they were to play Summit, but the game started out rough as Summit won the first set. This did not deter the Lady Knights however, and they came back full of energy and determination, winning the next three games. This put them straight through to the championship game against Kendrick on Wednesday.

The Knights came out strong and won the first set, but the Kendrick Tigers took the second. The girls knew they couldn't lose it here and they came back playing hard as a team, getting everything up, and having fun. This instantly turned the tables and they took the next two games, earning them the title of District Champions.

The girls returned to the gym in the mornings, practicing even harder than before. Everyone was excited for the State Tournament and it came quickly. At the end of October, the volleyball team returned to Lewiston to face Butte County in the first match. Butte and Logos were both first in their leagues so it shaped up to be a tough match. Logos fought hard but was defeated in three games.

Knowing that if they lost again they would be going home, the girls defeated Dietrich in three sets. Lighthouse Christian would be the next team they faced. The girls were ready and excited. They came out playing the best they had played all season. Although they lost the first set, they had played so hard and had so much fun, they said it didn't even feel like a loss. The scores had been so close and the Knights were determined to win the next set. They played just as well as the first set and had the lead but Lighthouse came back strong and took the next two.

Logos had given it their all, resulting in a win-loss record of 12-1 in the regular season, first in District, and fifth at State. Also, Keidi Anderson, Bea Whitling, and Maddie Wintz were named to the All-Whitepine League Division 2 First Team, while Rosie Meyer and Kirsten Wambeke were named to the Second Team. In addition, Bea and Maddie were named WPL Division 2 Co-Players of the Year, while Coach Jessica Evans was voted WPL Division 2 Coach of the Year for the fourth year in a row.

This year's varsity team included seniors Keidi Anderson, Grace Belschner, and Maddie Wintz; juniors Christiana Baker, Shania Hughes, Morgan Kiblen, Bel Merkle, Rosie Meyer, and Bea Whitling; sophomore Marilea Canul; and freshmen Hero Merkle, and Kirsten Wambeke.

The JV team, coached by Heather Wilson '12, had equally good success this year with a win-loss record of 8-2. On the JV team were: sophomore Sarah Rosendahl, along with freshmen Maggie Anderson, Hope Belschner, Ava Driskill, Olivia Igielski, Naomi Michaels, Julia Urquidez, Lydia Urquidez, and Lucy Wilson.

The junior high teams played well all season, making many improvements and winning all of their nine games. Coached by Jim Becker with assistance from Lizzie Schlect '15, the team

included: Lilee Bell, Ellie Brower, Xan

Senior Keidi Anderson was the libero, the team's defensive specialist.

Students Score Superiors at Speech Meets

On November 3, Logos students travelled to The Oaks for the annual interschool speech meet. The students listed below received superior scores in the October 20 intraschool meet and those in bold print went on to the interschool competition. A Δ identifies a situation wherein if no one earned a superior in a category in your class, the “runner up” in another category has the choice to compete in the empty slot – if the runner up has earned a superior score. A ¶ identifies those students who received superior scores at the interschool meet.

Logos Exceeds the Feed the Need Challenge

The enthusiasm was palpable as you entered the Logos gymnasium on October 12. All students, kindergartners through seniors, worked joyfully and tirelessly to help exceed our goal of 10,000 packaged meals for the needy in Idaho and Washington.

By the time the dust settled (quite literally), a total of 10,800 packets of food were prepared, boxed, and loaded onto trucks. These packaged soups and mixes went to food banks, medical clinics, and churches in Latah and Whitman Counties. Two thousand of these meals were delivered to Grangeville and Orofino to assist families in those towns.

Once again, 99.5 Bull Country FM was on location, broadcasting live. Praise God for the opportunity that we've had to love our neighbors on the Palouse and beyond.

From Principal Matt Whitling

Our secondary students are staying busy both in the classroom and out. We are into the second quarter of our academic classes. Cross country, volleyball, and drama all recently ended their seasons with basketball and mock trial starting up next.

National Merit Commendation

Congratulations to senior Keidi Anderson on attaining commended student status. More than two-thirds (about 34,000) of the approximately 50,000 high scorers on the PSAT/NMSQT® receive Letters of Commendation in recognition of their outstanding academic promise.

Commended Students are named on the basis of a nationally applied Selection Index score that may vary from year to year and is typically below the level required for participants to be named Semifinalists in their respective states.

They named him Caleb James Miller: Caleb for the fearless Israelite leader, who stood against the crowd saying, "C'mon guys, we can take 'em!," and James, who reminds them that faith without works is dead. The need of the day is for faithful and fearless men who don't care about the world's opinion and who are willing to act with godly wisdom, and they're excited to raise one.

We're happy to announce the birth of Amos Ridley Schlect (6 pounds 7 ounces, 20 inches) on July 3. Emily and Amos are both healthy and Ada is very excited to hold her new brother! Gresham Schlect '10

We are excited to welcome all 7 pounds 6 ounces of Jonah Blaze Kohl. Jonah joined his band of brothers on July 3, just six hours after the arrival of his cousin twin, Amos Schlect. We are very thankful for this (almost) Independence Day baby – both he and Christy are doing great. Brian '07 & Christy (and Asher and Henry) Kohl.

We're delighted to announce the birth of Jane Rene Crapuchettes, born on July 6 and weighing 6 pounds, 5 ounces. Her first name, meaning "God is gracious," and her middle name, meaning "reborn," are a tribute to God's great goodness in blessing our family with this precious little girl. To God be all praise and glory! Blessings, Jonathan, Annike (Christophersen '98), and Kenneth Crapuchettes.

George Hoehn was born July 6 weighing in at 8 pounds 4 ounces; 19.75 inches long. He joins his family, Andrew and Alyssa (Bowen '02) Hoehn, William, Edward and Caroline in Moscow, ID.
