Logos School Core Virtues

By Principal Matt Whitting

A number of years ago I sat watching a summer league game at another school. In large letters on the far wall were the words: Pride, Honor, Tradition. As I watched the game and looked at the words a few questions came to mind, "What do those words mean to this school's players and coaches?", "How well do those words correspond to what I am seeing on the court?", "If someone came into the Logos gym and watched our kids compete, what words would they use to describe what they saw?"

At the start of the year Logos coaches met and discussed these things. After pooling the wisdom of that group, three core virtues surfaced (articulated best by our mock trial coach, Chris Schlect). We wanted to see these virtues across the board in our extra-curricular activities. Regardless of whether it was Mock Trial or Volleyball, all the coaches agreed that GRATITUDE, SACRIFICE, EXCELLENCE summed up the Logos way. As we fleshed out these concepts and shared them with the teaching staff, it became clear that these were the same virtues we wanted exemplified in our teachers and students in the classroom.

These three virtues are simply our response to the gospel. So, whether we call them the Logos brand, the Logos way or our core virtues, the heart of the matter is that God has been kind to us, and we believe that kindness demands and produces a response. One of our elementary assembly sayings is, "Logos School . . . Gratitude, Sacrifice, Excellence (clap, clap)." Here is what we mean by that.

GRATITUDE

Saved people are thankful people. "For by grace you have been saved through faith. And this is not your own doing; it is the gift of God." Eph. 2:8. We know, through the scriptures and through experience, that we are guilty and dead in our sins. God has come to us, saved us, adopted us, and given us life with and in him, and none of it is our doing—it's all gift. Logos families are grateful people. 6 or 7 years ago a group of high school students started thanking their teachers after class: each class, every day. It wasn't a big deal, but as they left each of their seven class periods, they would make eye contact with the teacher and simply express their gratitude for what had been given to them. This practice grew and continued, and now we encourage new students to follow the lead of those who went before them. Our first response to the gospel is gratitude.

SACRIFICE

One of the central commands given by the one that saved us is to imitate Him. "If anyone would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me." Matt. 16:24. Saved people imitate the one that saved them. Our parents sacrifice to have their children at Logos School. Logos teachers sacrifice themselves for their students. Logos students sacrifice themselves each day as they work hard and invest themselves in their studies. When an adult enters the classroom our students stand, this is a small sacrifice of honor, time, energy, and deference. When the bell rings in the classroom, the girls are dismissed first, and the guys exit second. This is a small way that our gentlemen are learning to put others before themselves. Our second response to the gospel is to take up our cross and follow him—sacrifice.

"... the heart of the matter is that God has been kind to us, and we believe that kindness demands and produces a response."

EXCELLENCE

Our savior does what he does with excellence. As we imitate Him in sacrifice, we also imitate Him in excellence. “And whatever you do, do it heartily, as to the Lord and not to men” Col. 3:23. Everything we do is an offering to Him. What we are seeking to live out at Logos School is grace-powered excellence. Therefore, we strive for excellence in teaching. We are grateful for teachers who are masters of their material, who know their students well and who are excellent at introducing one to the other. We also strive for excellence in our students. Regardless of whether they are putting on a classroom play, taking a spelling test in 1st grade or competing on the lacrosse field, our goal is to fulfill the requirement in Colossians of doing the activity with all our hearts, and doing it as unto the Lord. Our final response to the gospel is excellence.

These responses can be summed up as thankfully (gratitude), giving (sacrifice), our best (excellence). Without Jesus all core virtues, slogans, and branding are empty striving after the wind. But when Christ moves in a people, they cannot help but respond. By God’s grace, our response at Logos School is GRATITUDE, SACRIFICE, EXCELLENCE. Our hope is that when visitors step into our gym and see our students, that they will see these virtues lived out on the court and give glory to God.

Board Chairman, Mr. Joe Casebolt congratulating Morgan Kiblen.

New Hires

Christiana Hale has been hired to teach 6th-8th Latin and both classes of English 8. She comes to us with 10 years of dance instruction, 1 year teaching for Roman Roads Media, a BA and MA from New Saint Andrews College and she is working on completing her MFA in Creative Writing.

Kirk Brower has been hired to teach one of our OT Survey classes to our 7th graders. He is the pastor of Bridge Bible Fellowship here in Moscow. He is a Logos School board member and father of 4 Logos students. He has many years of experience with Cru (team leader for northern Idaho) and he taught high school math at Melba High.

Isaac Lopez has been hired to teach both of our Rhetoric II classes to our 10th graders. He coached our JH Boys Basketball Team last year and has spent time volunteering in Logos classes during the spring semester. He is finishing up his BA at New Saint Andrews college. He is recently married (to Ruth) this summer.

Zachary Wilke has been hired to teach one of our New Testament Survey classes to our 8th graders. He comes to us with a BA in Biblical and Theological Studies from Bethlehem College and Seminary. He is working toward an MA in Theology and Letters at New Saint Andrews College and he is a student at Greyfriars Hall (pastoral training through Christ Church). He and his wife, Kathryn, just had their first daughter, Isla Mae.

Daniel Bradley has been hired to teach one of our New Testament Survey classes to our 8th graders. He is a Logos Alumn who is finishing up his BA at New Saint Andrews College and just completed an internship at EMSI in Client Services.

Wendy Sensing has been hired to teach both of our Ancient History classes to our 7th graders. She has a BS in Human Performance and Sport Studies from the University of Tennessee and years of teaching and administrative experience at The Classical Academy in Franklin TN, a school that she and her husband Carson helped to start.

Michael Jones has been hired to teach Rhetoric III and European Literature. He comes very highly recommended from NSA where he graduated last spring. He grew up in Barrington, Illinois where he attended Classical Consortium Academy. Please welcome Mr. Jones when you see him!

Will Boyd has been hired to teach both of our biology classes to our 10th graders. He has a BS in Biology and a Minor in Chemistry from the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point and an MS in Natural Resources from the University of Idaho. He has 17 years of teaching experience. Will and his wife Liz have seven kids and they have lived here in Latah County for the past 15 years.

Shelly Lopez has been hired to teach both pre-algebra classes to our 7th graders. She is the wife of our athletic director, Patrick. She graduated with a BS in Mathematics Education from the University of Missouri. She has teaching and administrative experience at Englewood Christian Academy in Independence, Missouri, and taught her own children math as they homeschooled.

Alison Erber taught at Logos for years and she is returning to teach our Preschool and Kindergarten music classes. She was instrumental in developing our elementary music curriculum based on the Kodaly method and we are delighted to have her back at Logos.

Melissa Rauch has been hired to teach one of the MWF Preschool classes. Melissa has taught elementary PE for us for years and we are delighted to have her teaching in the classroom as well next year!

Lauren McMurray has been hired to teach our T/Th Preschool class. She has a BS in Elementary Education from the University of Idaho, has worked for the Association of Classical and Christian Schools, has been on the Logos auction committee for years and is our beloved Logos room mom coordinator.

Kelly Driskill has been hired as the Events Coordinator. Kelly graduated with the Logos class of '96 and went on to graduate from the U of I with a degree in Secondary Education, English and psychology, with a focus on at-risk youth. She is married to Ed and they have four children at Logos.

Carson Sensing has been hired as the Development Director. He and his wife, Wendy, and their children moved to Moscow from Nashville, TN. He has a degree in Business from the University of Mississippi. They have three children at Logos.

Changes

Holly Berry is moving from teaching preschool to kindergarten.

Micaela Blum is moving from teaching first grade to second grade.

Tracie Handel is moving from teaching kindergarten to first grade.

Jessica Evans will be teaching elementary art, grades 2-6, and will also be the Librarian.

The preschool and kindergarten will be moving off campus to the Nazarene Church.

Mrs. Kimmell's second grade classroom and Mrs. Merkle's kindergarten classroom will be new secondary classrooms.

The previous preschool classroom in the small house will be converted back to the library for the school.

The Development Department will utilize two rooms in the small house where the library is located.

Logos School Report of Giving

Friends of Logos,

It is my pleasure to submit this 2018/2019 Financial Giving Summary for your review. Please join me in expressing gratitude to God and the 378 people and businesses that made donations and commitments to Logos in the last year. Together, we contributed $530,400 to our school.

I know that I speak for everyone on campus and our entire Logos Board in saying, "Thank you!"

Logos Annual Fund 2018/2019

In all, 122 households participated in the Annual Fund, contributing a total of $150,807. We are grateful to you all!

In our attempt to increase donations to Logos, we offer restricted giving opportunities that allow donors to match their philanthropic preferences with the school's growing needs. The chart at right reflects the way individuals directed their dollars this fiscal year.

The following businesses generously supported the school in 2018/2019 through Logos Corporate Sponsors:

Varsity track, led by Coach Gwen Spencer, was a very young team but one that has a very bright future. Nic Minudri, Gadi Edwards and Bel Merkle provided key leadership for this team that sent multiple individuals to the state meet in Boise.

Naomi Michaels finished 3rd in the girls 100m. Gadi Edwards also finished 3rd in the boys 100m. Other top individual finishers included Nic Minudri placing 7th in the 400m and Naomi Michaels 5th in the 200m.

The girls Medley team of Bel Merkle, Sarah Youmans, Clara Anderson, and Naomi Michaels took 3rd place. A very young group of girls, Sophomores Naomi Michaels and Lucia Wilson, along with Freshmen Lina Jankovic and Clara Anderson, placed 3rd in the 4x400 relay. Coach Spencer was pleased with the team's performance and is excited about the future.

Well done on another great year Coach Spencer and athletes!

Freshman, Theo Sentz, staying the course and finishing strong for the Knights!

LOGOS LACROSSE

Write-up by: Patrick Lopez

Pictures by: Tami Pilchard Photography

Varsity Lacrosse played an abbreviated season that allowed for the very young team to gain valuable experience. Veterans Bennet Schlecht and Tallis Meyer led the young group and helped them to grow and compete. The team had the privilege of being the very first Logos sport to enjoy the use of the athletic field on the new school property; they are looking forward to hosting games next spring.

The JH Lacrosse team was quite successful in defeating each opponent this year. This allowed more of the young players to gain some valuable and much needed experience. With so many players returning, the success of the JH team, and our new field to play on, the future of Logos Lacrosse looks bright. Well done Knights!

On Wednesday, April 17th, the 9th and 10th grade students met at the gym for photos and then headed out to The Pie Safe in Deary for a social time with hors d'oeuvres on the patio and a multi course meal. The menu included: Brush Creek Creamery cheese plate, organic hibiscus-berried tea, wedge salad, beef tenderloin au poivre or chicken cordon bleu, green beans almondine, and potato swirls. The students concluded the lovely spring evening with chocolate mousse with berries and sparkling cider for toasting.

On Monday, May 13th, the 11th and 12th grade students were blessed with wonderful weather as they met for photos and then traveled to Coeur d'Alene for dinner, a cruise, and dessert. The cruise ship Mish-an-Nock carried the students from the Coeur d'Alene Resort to The Cedars Floating Restaurant.

Dinner choices included: soup or salad, a choice of prime rib, cedar plank salmon, or chicken Alfredo, and sparkling cider for toasting. After dinner, the students boarded the boat and toured the lake while enjoying music performed by Mr. Samuel Dickison and Mr. Christian O'Bryan. The evening finished up with fantastic dessert options at the Dockside restaurant before heading home.

Mrs. Courtney's annual 8th Grade Northwest History Trip was a great success again this year. Some stops of the trip included Fort Fizzle, Krystal Gold Mine, Lolo Pass, Dworshak Dam and Hatchery, Missoula Smokejumpers, and Kamiah 1st Presbyterian Church. The students wrote of their experiences of the trip for Mrs. Miller's English class.

"When the guide was finished talking about its [the mission church's] history we all stood up and sang the school anthem. All of a sudden, the church seemed to be alive. The walls rang and the church looked as though it was once again in its full glory. . . . What I felt at that moment was that even a place like a simple old church, damaged over time and abandoned, can glorify God. You could even see it through the face of the guide. He, as well as we, realized this was still, and until its destruction will be, the house of God." -- Eddrick Moya

"I began to realize how eerie this place looked, especially in the tunnels beyond where the lanterns' light could reach. . . . In fact, this was certainly no bright journey when our guide switched off every lantern and flashlight in our tunnel to show how consumingly thick the darkness around us was. Despite the recovery of the lights, I could not help but feel a concussive sense of one being trapped, as hundreds of feet of concrete-like rock separated our little group from the surface air." -- Angela Visger (Kellogg gold mine tour)

"Excitement filled all the eighth graders as they prepared for the fight at Lolo Pass: the first and final Logos-School-approved snowball fight we would ever experience."

-- Xan Doane

Well Done Students!

LOGOS CLASS OF 20

"Be on your guard; stand firm in the faith; be courageous; be strong." 1 Corinthians 16:13

Well Done Class of 2019! What are your plans for next year? What college or major are you planning on? What is the one thing you would like to have done ten years from now? What is your advice for freshman?

Christiana Boothman: "I plan to spend an exchange year in Germany. After that, I plan to attend WSU and pursue a medical career. In ten years, I hope to have completed all of my schooling and have a family. My advice to freshmen is to not focus all of your time on school. School is important, but your relationship with your family and with God is infinitely more important."

August Igielski: "Next year I will be attending Oklahoma Christian University and majoring in Mechanical Engineering as well as participating in Army ROTC at the University of Central Oklahoma. In ten years, I want to have been a leader and a light in the military. Freshmen, check Renweb no more than twice a quarter."

Rudy Christianson: "Next year I plan on attending the University of Idaho, majoring in Secondary Education. In ten years, I would like to be fluent in Spanish, French, and Mandarin Chinese. My advice is to drink more water. You are always dehydrated!"

Morgan Kiblen: "My plan for next year is to go to Grand Canyon University and major in Elementary Education. Lord willing, in ten years, I'll have graduated and found a good school to teach at, and hopefully have a family of my own. To freshmen, do your homework, find Godly friends, learn to enjoy the people around you and you'll have a MUCH better time."

Gadi Edwards: "Next year I plan on attending New Saint Andrews College pursuing a degree in Liberal Arts. In ten years, I would like to have my own island. My advice to freshmen is do not procrastinate and delete Instagram."

Belphoebe Merkle: "I will be attending New Saint Andrews College for the next four years for Liberal Arts. In ten years, I would like to have finished college and have a strong Christian family and a large house in the country. My advice is to love God and love your neighbor."

Benjamin Euhus: "Next year I plan on going to the University of Idaho to study Marketing Analytics. In ten years I hope to have swiftly and successfully finished my higher education. My advice? Just. Keep Swimming."

Madelynn Rose Meyer: "I will be attending the University of Arkansas majoring in Accounting. Ten years from now, I hope to live by the beach. My advice for freshmen is to stick with it!"

Shania Hughes: "Next year I will be a freshman at New Saint Andrews for a Liberal Arts degree. I would like to be a wife and mother, with a vast knowledge of film making and editing, and love for God and my family. My advice to freshmen is to respect your teachers; love your classmates."

Talis Meyer: "I'm planning on starting my Computer Science degree from the University of Idaho while obtaining transfer credits from NSA. In ten years, I'd like to become a full time staffer for Worldview Academy. My advice is to make the most of every moment here at Logos."

19 BIDS “FAREWELL”

*Non Nobis Domine, Domine
(Not to Us, O Lord, O Lord)
Non Nobis, Domine (Not to Us, O Lord)
Sed Nomini, Sed Nomini
(But to Your Name, But to Your Name)
Tuo da Gloriam (Be Glory)*

Nathan Miller: “I’m planning on attending NSA next year to get a bachelor’s degree in Liberal Arts. I will continue to work as a manager at Bucer’s. In ten years? Publish books that make people laugh. In sixteen, of course, I’ll be able to run for President. My advice is that Easy-cheese can sometimes look like frosting. Eat cupcakes warily.”

Nicolas Minudri: “I will be attending The Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) where I will run track and major in Business Analytics and Economics. My ten year plan is to rule the world and break 5’9”. Advice for freshmen is to work hard and have fun.”

Elyzabeth Norwood: “I will be attending New Saint Andrews College for a Liberal Arts degree. I would like to have a degree for family counseling with the beginnings of my own business started, as well as to be a wife and mom. My advice is that school is important, but it is not everything; don’t limit learning.”

Brian Plotner: “I am planning on majoring in Accounting at the University of Idaho. I would like to successfully own my own business. Having a million dollars would also be nice, and inflation might just make that a reality. Freshmen, get plenty of sleep. Also, shower daily.”

Titus Postma: “I will be attending New Saint Andrews College pursuing a degree in Liberal Arts. After that, I would like to pursue an apprenticeship as an electrician. I would like to be an electrician and have a family. I would also like to travel and learn a whole mess of languages. My advice is to enjoy your time learning and grow close to your classmates.”

Eleanor Rheingans: “I will be attending Cal Poly this fall for Construction Management. In ten years, I plan to be financially stable, married, and living somewhere warm. My advice for freshmen is to get a summer job!”

Bennett Schlect: “Next year I will be a full time student at U of I majoring in Mechanical Engineering and a part time student at NSA. I hope to not be bald in 10 years. Play as many sports as you can, while you can is my advice to freshmen.”

Sara Beatrice Whitling: “Next year I will be playing volleyball for the University of Idaho and majoring in Elementary Education. Ten years from now, I would like to be coaching high school volleyball and teaching. My advice to freshmen would be to try out new extra-curricular activities and to stay involved in school.”

Laina Wyrick: “I plan on attending WSU next fall and major in Mechanical Engineering or Physics. In the next ten years, I would like to be married with kids and have read an insane number of books and done an insane amount of math. My advice to freshmen is to work hard and don’t worry about the results.”

Zuelah Yager: “I plan to major in Business at the University of Idaho. Within the next ten years, I would like to be financially stable and own a castle. Don’t cut corners is my advice.”

Sarah Youmans: “I will be going to the University of Idaho to major in Architecture. Ten years from now, I hope to have done some traveling. Freshmen advice would be to Just Keep Going!”

FIRST ANNUAL LOGOS CLAY SPORTING SHOOT

Our Saturday, May 25, fifty-eight Logos supporters drove north to the Double Barrel Ranch in Rockford, Washington to participate in the First Annual Logos Clay Sporting Shoot. The ranch, a 3,000 acre hunting preserve, has a lodge, an event barn, and a 20-station clay shooting course for hunters to test their skill. After two hours of shooting at our May event, the men were treated to a hot lunch by Moscow's Willburger and a whisky tasting complements of Dry Fly Distilling in Spokane.

Our individual winner was Jeff Handel (with Matt Whitling coming in a close second). Our team champions consisted of Tim Schultz '09, Samuel Smathers '09, Jake Gisler, and Nathan Groph.

A big "thank you" to our Presenting Sponsor, Mike Church of Kestrel Realty, and all our corporate sponsors for making this event such a success. Nearly $20,000 was raised for Logos School through this bang-up fundraiser. Be looking for a save-the-date announcing our 2020 Clay Sporting Shoot!

OUR EVENT SPONSORS: Albaugh, Carlton Builders, Classic Wood Floors & Carpentry, Germer Construction, Key Properties, Kimberling Insurance Agency, Kestrel Realty, Latah County Title Company, Logos Online School, Moscow Family Dentistry, Moscow Family Eye Care, Project Upland, Tapped –Taphouse & Kitchen, and Thrivent Financial

Weddings

Two Logos alumni were married May 18, 2019, Gavin Meyer '12 married Katie Akin '14 at Bridge Bible Fellowship Church with a reception following at the Best Western.

Thomas Banks '04 married Angelina Stanford on June 13, 2019 in NC.

Births

April 20 the Caleb and Hannah (Page '11) Struble family got to celebrate the new life of Penelope Anne! This feisty little girl came into the world at 11:04 pm, weighing 8 lbs 2 oz and 20.5 inches long. The Struble family is smitten.

William Edward Anglen was born on June 13 at 9:03 pm to Krista (Kirkland '05) and Nathan Anglen. He weighed 7 lbs 5 oz and was 20.5 inches. William means "Determined Protector" and through the craziness of yesterday, we were strongly reminded that God is definitely the protector of our children, especially when there is nothing we can do about it! He's been watching over this little guy and will continue to! And Edward (which also means Guard/Protector) is both his dad's and grandpa's middle name, so it's neat to carry that on!

AREA COLLEGES: Warriors' Handel places third in NAIA marathon

May 26, 2019

GULF SHORES, Ala. — Jonny Handel '15 of Lewis-Clark State placed third in the men's marathon Saturday in the NAIA national track meet.

He was one of six L-C competitors to place in the top 10 on the meet's final day.

Handel, of Moscow, finished the 44-participant marathon in 2 hours, 41 minutes, 57.57 second. "It was a great week to be a Warrior," L-C coach Mike Collins said.
